OUR TIMES . . .

1977
TIGER
TUCKER HIGH SCHOOL
TUCKER, GEORGIA

EARLY

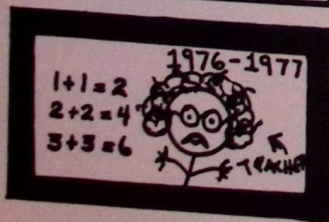

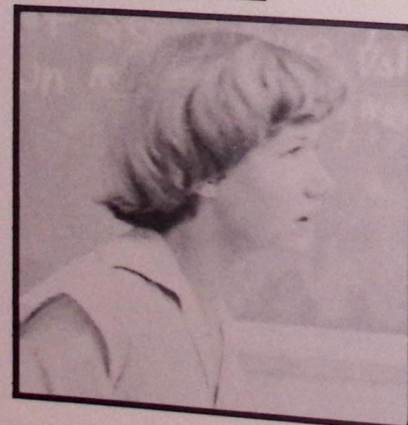

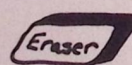

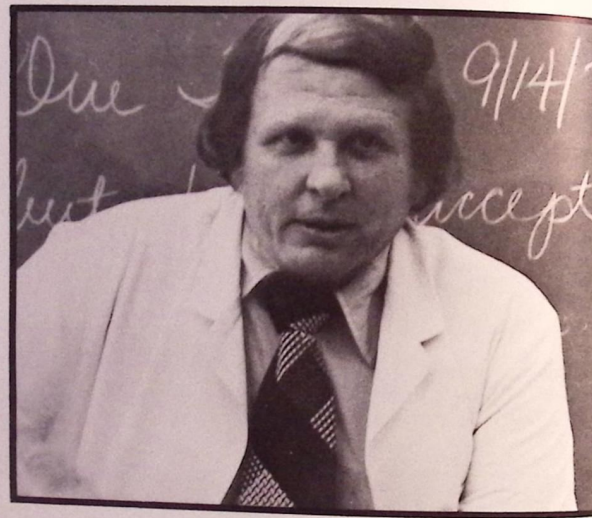

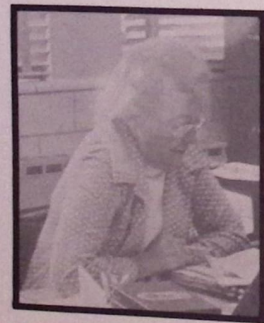

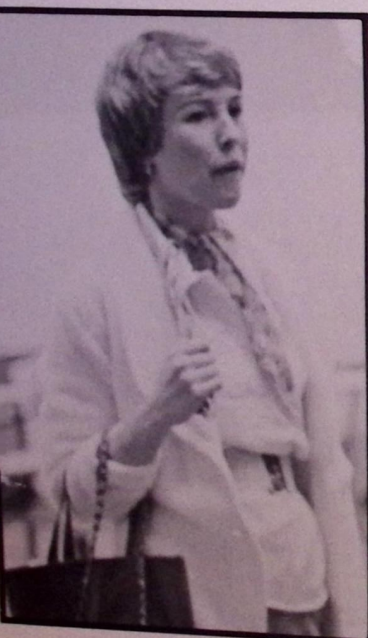

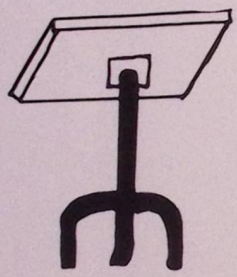

MORNING

You roll over and read the large numbers of the clock 7:45—45 minutes late! You jump out of bed and throw your clothes on. Grab a Granola Bar on your way out the door. You remember your history test as you rush after the yellow streak rounding the next corner. Make your way to the library and just as you get there, the bell rings — another day begins.

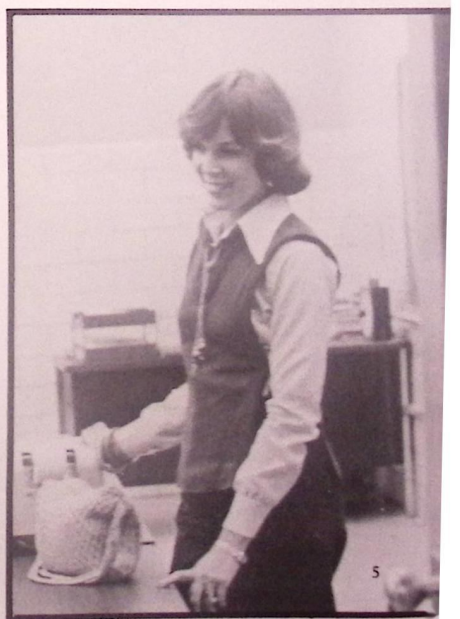

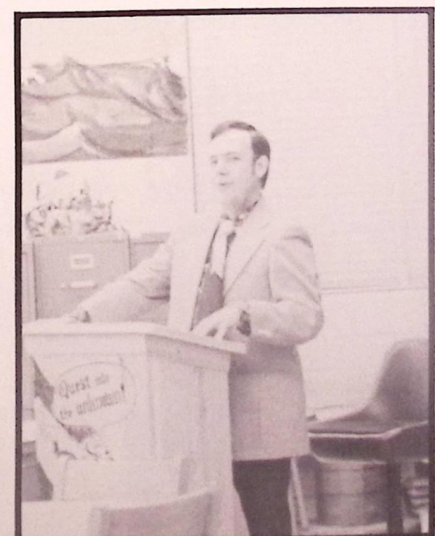

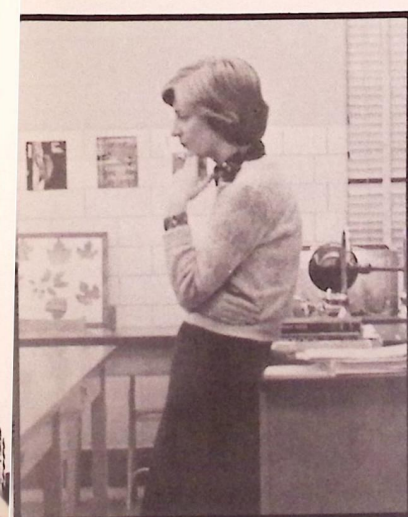

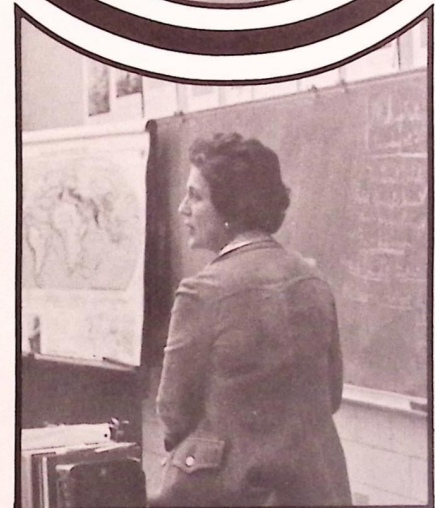

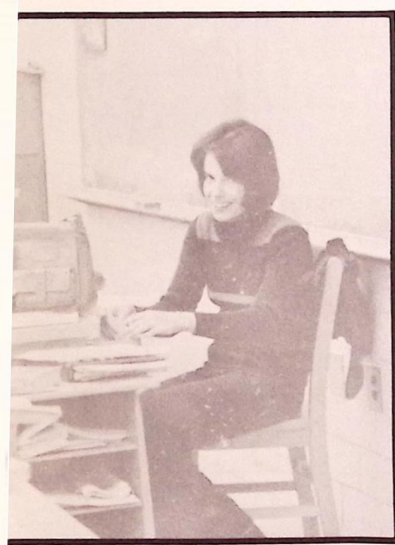

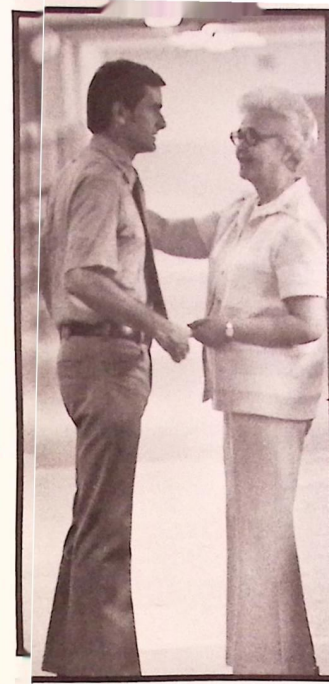

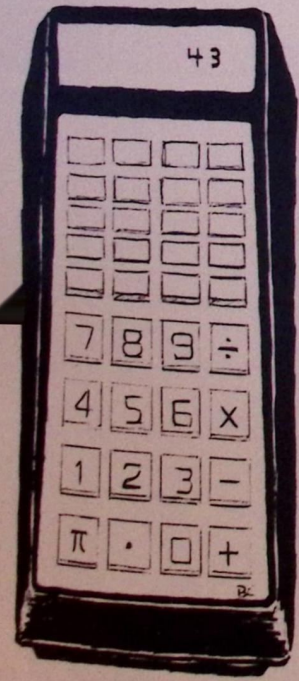

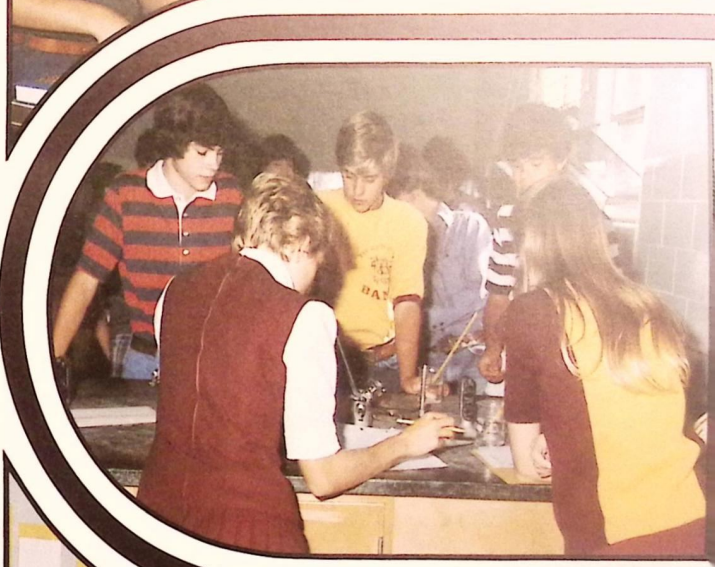

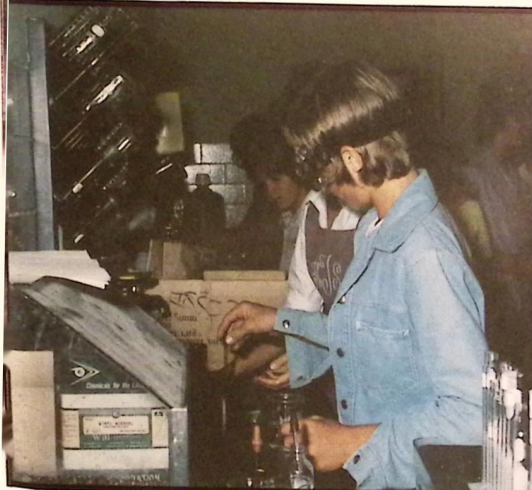

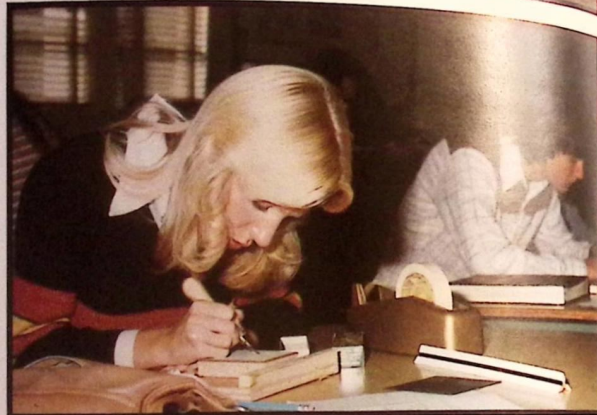

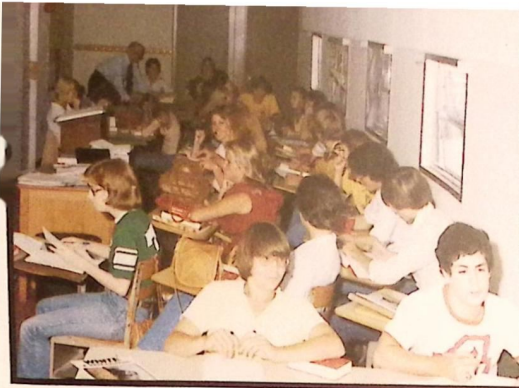

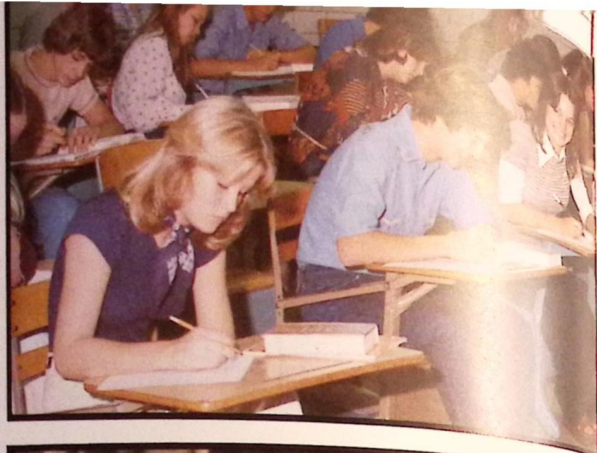

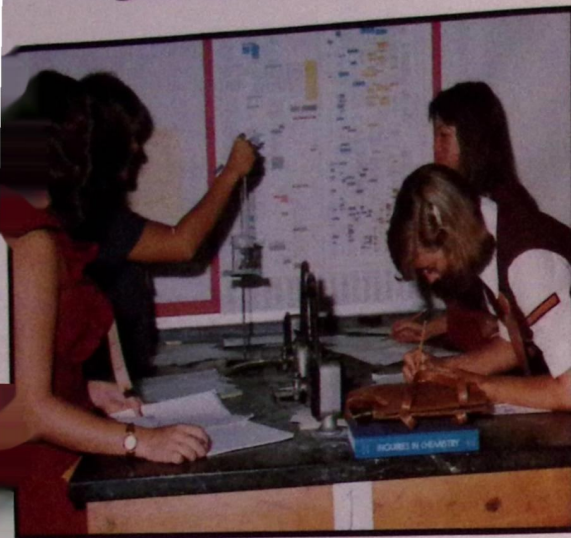

FACULTY

"I can't hear you answer the roll when you're all talking ... O.K. class, take out your homework—what do you mean I didn't give you any homework? Oh boy, do I need a break! ... All right, everybody, contrary to popular belief this is not a democracy — I am your dictator! Now get busy! This is very important ... the bell? I've only gotten through ¼ of the chapter!"

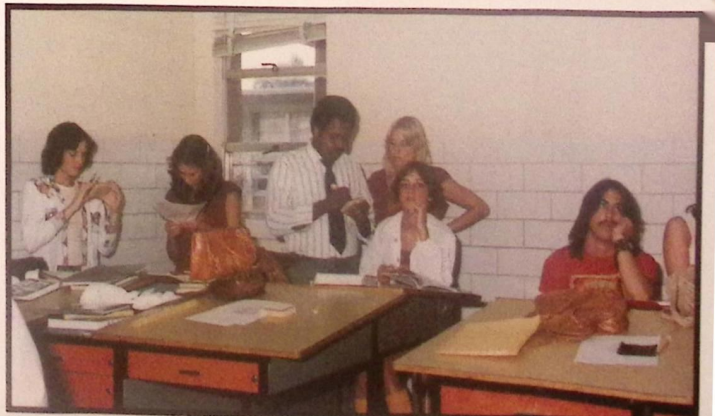

CLASSES

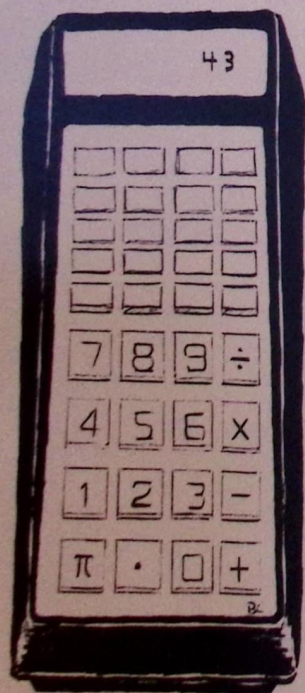

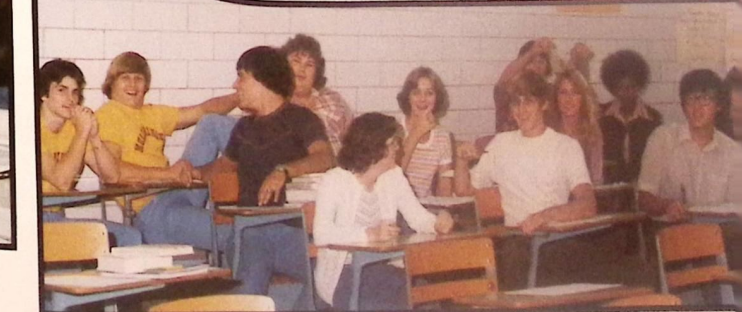

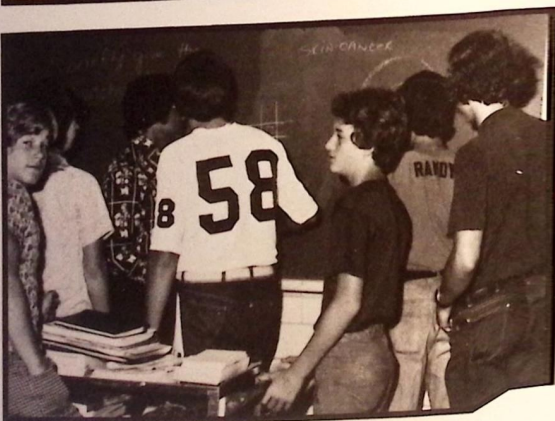

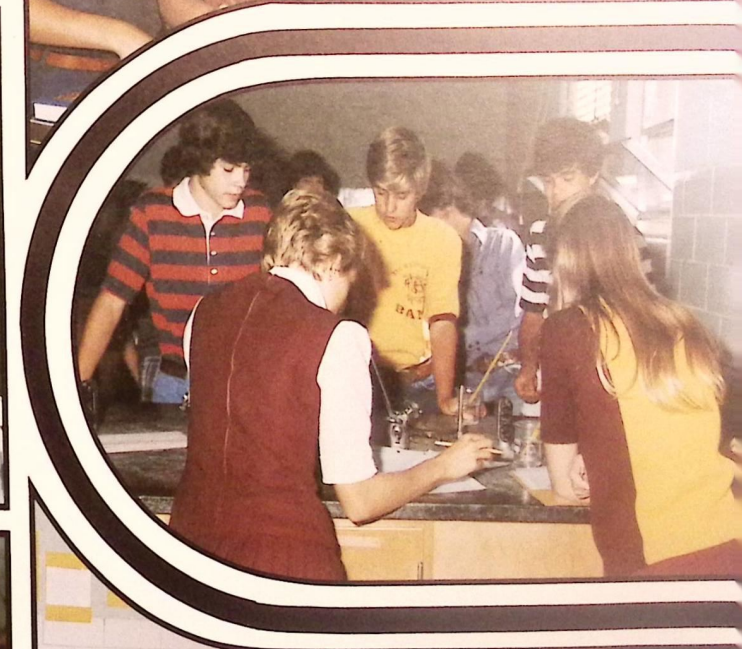

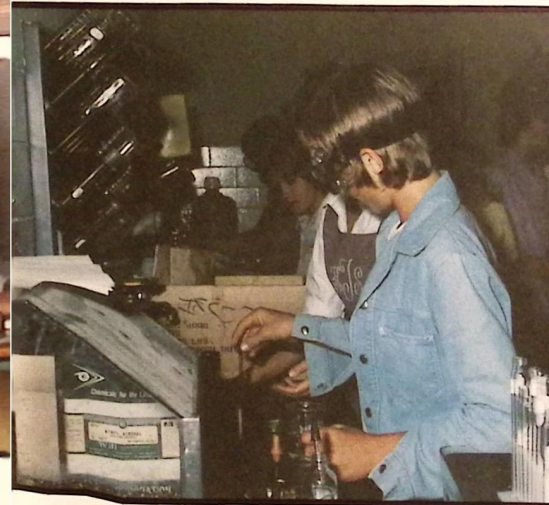

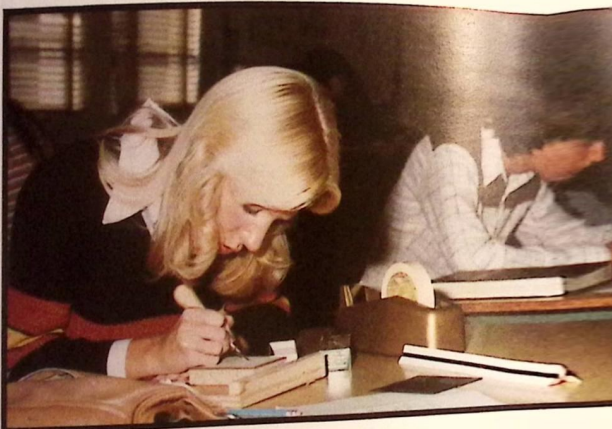

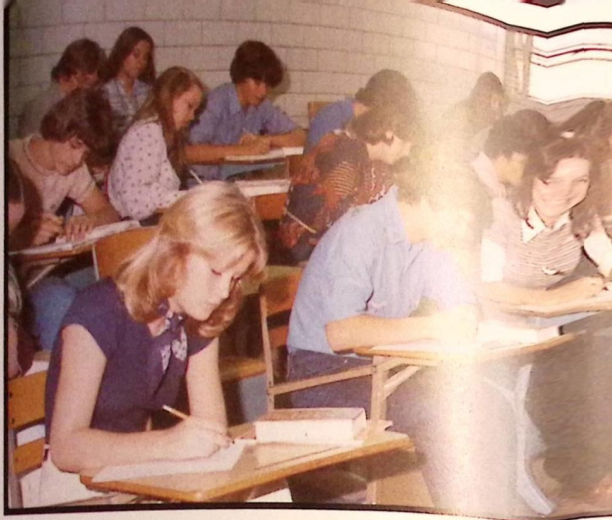

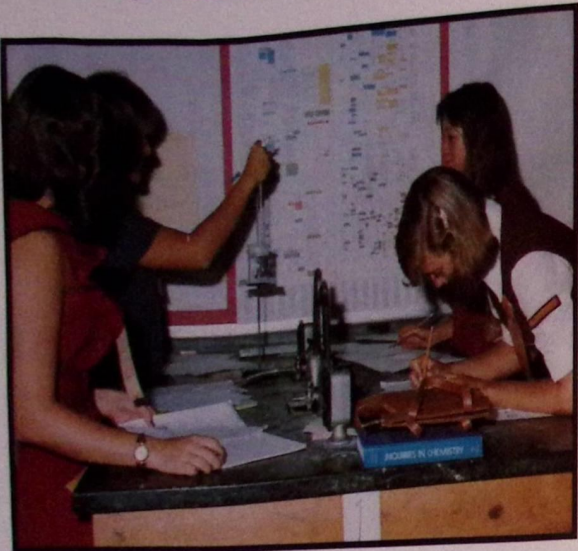

"Jimmy, wake up — She just called on you ... " Quelle heure est il? ... I am, you are, he- she-it is, we am?!? I knew it should have studied. "You can't give me a zero — my dog chewed up my paper ... (?) ... Read another chapter? I still have to read the last chapter! ... Problems 1-50?!! Does she think this is the only class I have!!?"

"May I have your attention pleeezzz? ... following cars must be moved ... Attention all clubs ... the last day for ... bring your dues to ... homeroom will be extended 5 minutes to vote for ... meet in A-wing lobby immediately following homeroom ..."

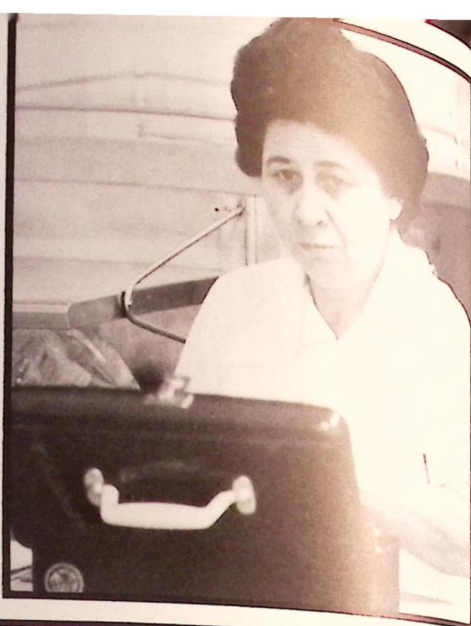

CLASSES

LUNCH-TIME

Lunch! All right ... McDonald's here we come! We'll make it back for 5th ... We WILL — come on!! ... Oh, I have a test 5th — I don't have time for lunch. I should eat. I have practice after school ... I've been standing in this line for 40 minutes and they've run out of french fries AGAIN!! ... That nerd just squirted ketchup all over my good shirt! ... Didn't we just have this cake yesterday! ... O.K., who wants ice cream! 1:15!!!! ... We made it!! ... Run!

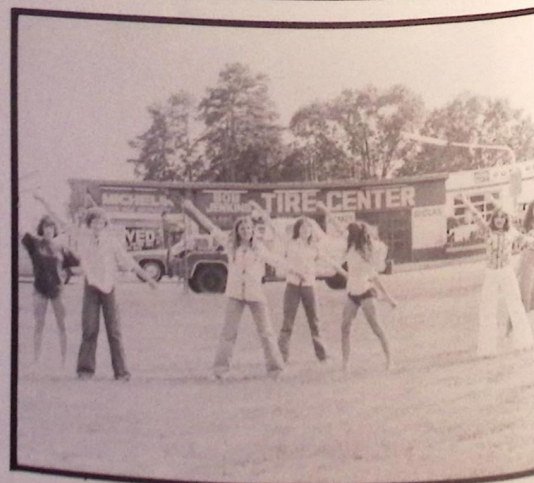

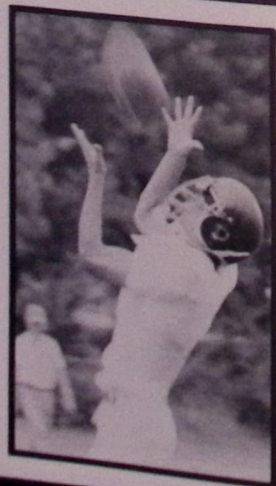

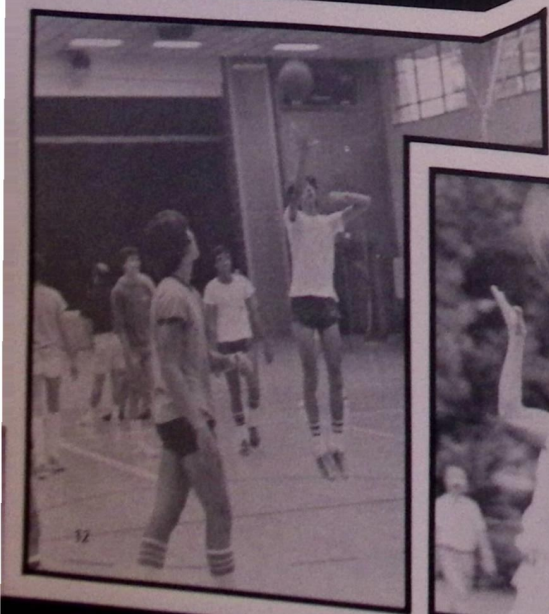

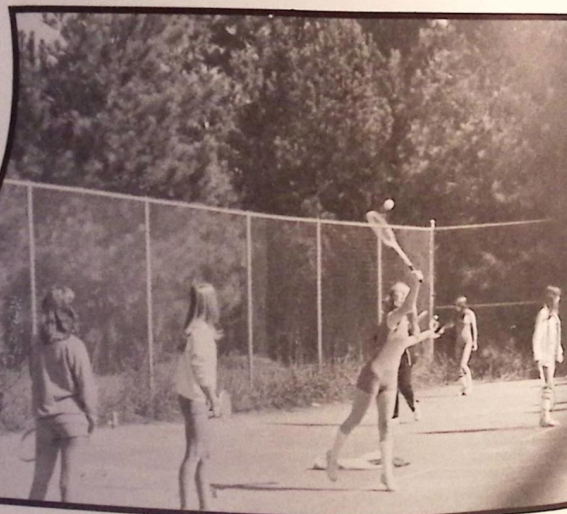

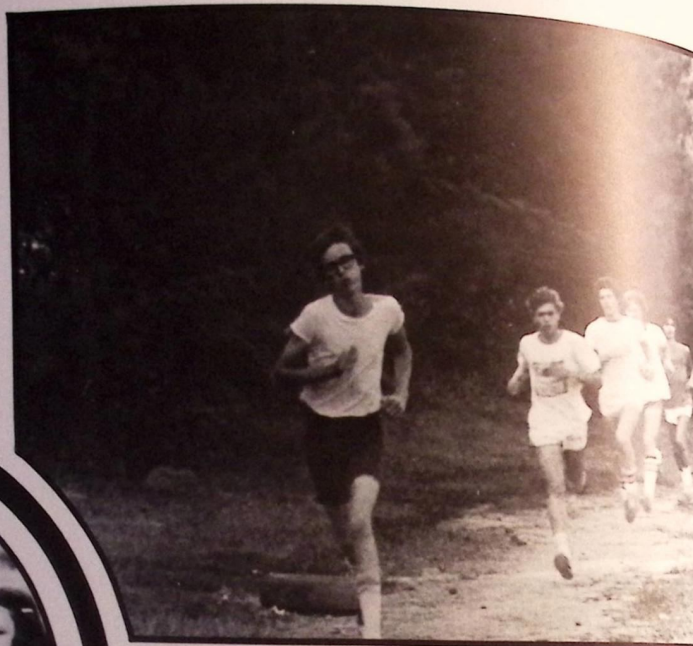

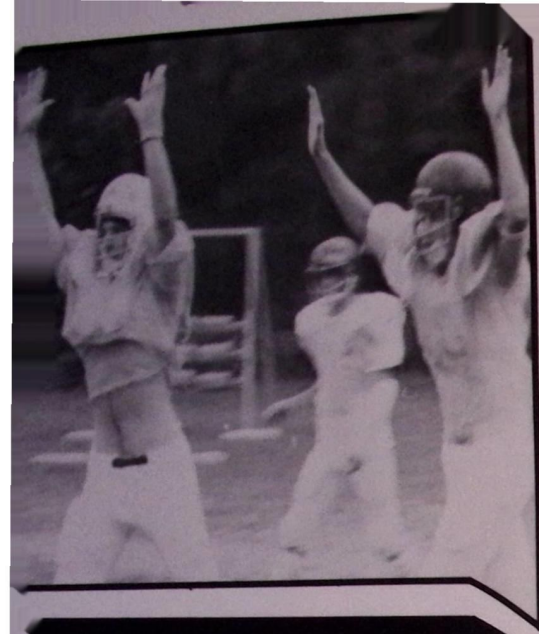

we've got SPIRRR...IT!

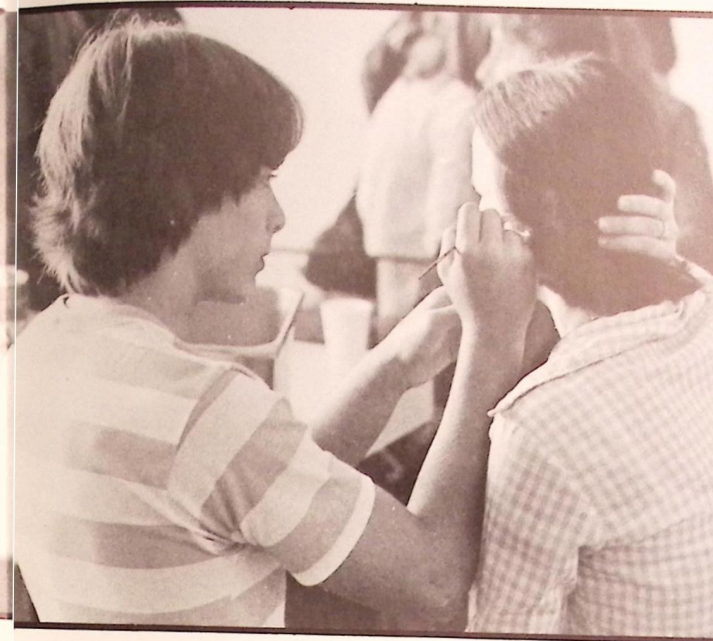

"Would the 8th graders please refrain from throwing airplanes on the gym floor ... Ya'll stand up and yeelll ... The spirit chain goes to the Seniors — Rah! Rah! Hit them harder, see how they fall ... We got the team that's SUPER BAD! ... We've got spirit, yes we do, we've got spirit, How 'about you? ... We've got MORE!! Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Tucker High, all Hail."

The bell at 3:15 means going home to some people, but to others it is only a continuation ... Drill ... Practice ... Running ... Concentrating hour after hour to achieve a goal.

$8 dues ... Meetings every other Thursday ... Monthly projects ... 5 absences minimum? ... Make-up projects ... Another call meeting? ... Planning ... How many paper plates do I bring for the party? ... Another batch of cookies TONIGHT?!

people to see ... things

Flight of the Mind

There's a droning in the background,
Steady and meaningless.
But my mind is not here
Within these thin walls.
My spirit soars,
Chasing through pure sky
Without limit.

I open my eyes and stare in wonder
At the insane world.
I rise and dip,
dip and rise,
Not knowing where I soar, Only where I must eventually be.
Ahead lies the sun.
And behind?
Behind lay memories.
I hover in mid-air
Deliberating.
Should I continue on my path?
Or return to my past?
My home is the sky,
My breath,
The wind.

And I return.

Gordon '76

Run wild, run free.
Race before the winds of life, and concentrate only upon what lies before you.
Let not others choose your path,
But be not afraid to reach out,
To touch another life with your own.
For it is this contact,
That helps us forget the past,
And gather strength for the future.

Gordon '76

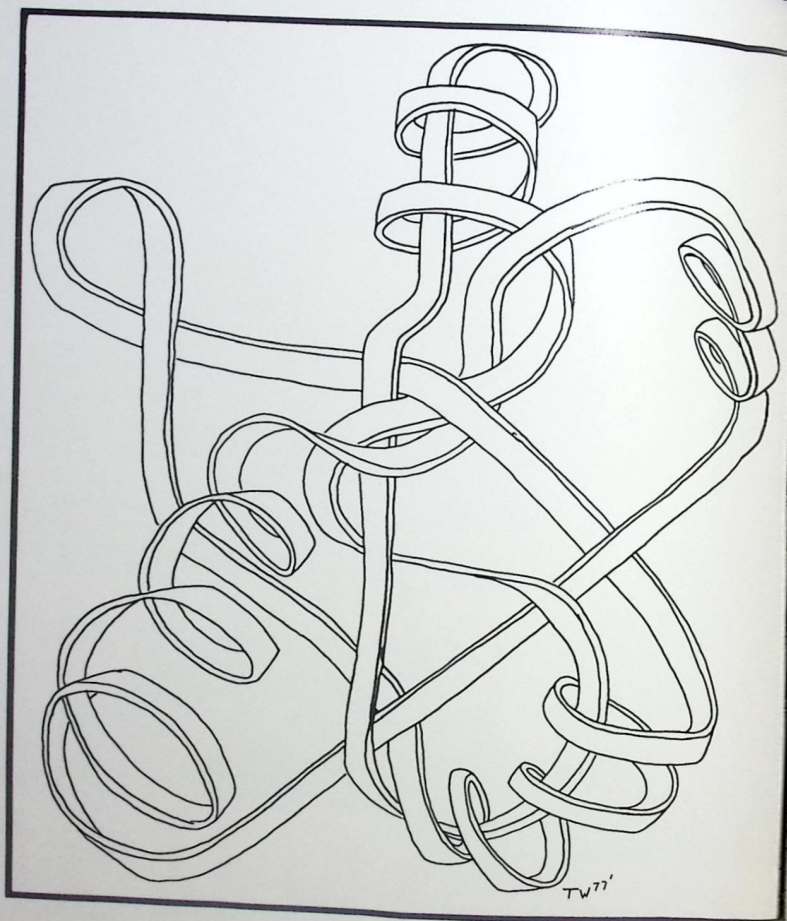

Tomorrow

Things that people say today,
Will they still be said
tomorrow?
Or will it all change.

Love that is shared now,
Will it be shared with the same meaning tomorrow?

I wish there were an answer to every question, to every hope and dream.
Reality comes around.

Birth

Tiny and fragile, the small girl opened her eyes,
A world she'd never seen.
The large blue eyes lingered from corner to corner,
from person to person.
Thoughts, questions, replies tried to fight their way out.
The words just couldn't say.
Feelings trying to be expressed.
Suddenly,
it came the only noise she knew of — crying!

— bet —

A person
with an open mind
never stops learning;
A person
with an open heart never stops loving;
A person
with both never stops growing.

R.C.

I relive my memories
and Hope for the future for now
I know the pain,
and I know what it means,
to have and not hold ...

GORDON '76

I wonder

i sit and wonder about death is it any different from living or do you feel anything like pain, sorrow, joy;
or do you see anything light, dark the forgotten.
are you being taken away will you ever be back
i wonder what that smile means and who they talk to when death
arrives;
will i be afraid
or welcome it with open arms and when i die will it be of old age or will i die young i'm in no hurry though it just makes me wonder ...

A beginning to an end

The embryo began to develop.
Slowly a mind of its own,
small, fragile,
hands,
fingers,
and a faint heartbeat.
Destroyed, quickly without a chance to be, why?

America: A dream from '76

saw him sitting all alone that day, his face was wrinkled and his eyes were sad.
he seemed lonely but he did not say, or his cane was the only friend he had.
with unsteady eyes he looked to the sky and looked at the birds and yet did not see.
All I could do for this man was to cry yet still, the old man knew nothing of me.
Oh, how I wanted to give him my heart but now I knew his suffering was over, or on that very lonely day he died
And nobody cared and nobody cried.

America: A dream from '76

As I have traveled down life's road,
Precious things have passed by unseen —
So many treasures we have taken for granted.
I gaze up at our flag,
The red, white and blue of my flag,
And I thank God for 200 years ago.
America:
Thoughts
Hard Work
Fulfilled Dreams.
No where else is it possible —
"America the Beautiful God shed his grace on thee."

It's Easier to Laugh than Cry

I've been through this before.
I've sat and wondered and debated.

The same questions have been asked and the same answers have been found.

Why am I always smiling?
walk around and convince everyone
I'm content.

But lately,
I'm not convincing anyone.
I have to try harder and harder just to fool me.
And I keep telling myself
it's easier to laugh than cry.

But now I'm crying ...

GORDON '76

We really need the closeness of love among us all, Kindness in mankind is what we should install To waste our time on picky things like petty arguments, Is playing around with precious time which is really 'heaven' sent.
So may I make a suggestion about the things we do, Live each day in honor of what God has given you.

— Jeanne Russo

Love in a Jar

I saw a beautiful butterfly,
It was carefree and full of life.
I wanted to capture its beauty and keep it for myself.
I got a net and a great big jar —
I captured the beautiful thing.
I gave it a stick and a leaf to sit on and a little piece of string.
I closed the lid of my jar quite tight,
I didn't want to lose my prize.
Now I could view it whenever I pleased
And enjoy its carefree life.
But once in the jar my butterfly sat.
Its life was carefree no more.
And slowly my beautiful butterfly left my jar through heaven's door.

I met a lovely friend
He was kind and full of life —
I wanted to capture his heart
I wanted to be his wife.
But all too soon my greedy heart
Tried to put him in a jar.
I gave him a kiss and I gave him my love
But I kept him in that jar.
I thought I had closed the lid and I thought I was holding on tight.
But I awoke one morning to find him gone,
He had left me during the night.
He left me without giving a reason why
But my saddened heart still cries
For I know that my selfishness killed his love
Like I had killed the butterfly.

Remember

I sit here and remember all the years that I have been at this very place,
Looking out this very window,
Seeing the very same things,
But yet, it is all so completely different.
I sit here and see my life Gone by.
Those things and those times
Which were so important to me —
They are all gone now ...
And I can not understand why.
The way my heart grieves is too much to bear
I have lost something I loved,
A part of my life so precious to me —
And it's all gone.
I sit here and remember the things I thought years ago I never dreamed I'd be like this today.
What will it be like years from now?
But I don't want tomorrow —
I want yesterday.
Yesterday, when that special part of life was mine
That same tree was here years ago.
That same street — all the same
But so different.
If only I could hang on —
If only it didn't have to pass.
And I grieve deeply that something
I loved with all my heart is gone Forever.
That special part of my life —
of me.

Crossing Love's Path

Many times we find love for only a short while,
We enjoy it while it lasts and Though it is hard to say good-bye
We go on, yet keep the memories locked in our mind.
We take them out when we feel lost, sad or confused, Sometimes we take them out just to relive the happy moments we shared.
It was at the beach on the day that we met,
We saw and watched each other long before we spoke,
We knew even then we would never see each other again, Still we came to know each other and to share our lives.
We talked, we sang, we laughed, and we played.
It was fun and we were happy.
Now a week later you have gone,
I walk on the beach and I think of life, of me, of you and of love.
I stop and look out upon the ocean,
I turn back and can see my footprints in the sand
where I have just come,
A wave rolls in and washes over them and I see them no more.
We were kind of like that —
We walked along down life's path
Enjoying each other's company,
The time came to say good-bye.
It washed over us and nothing is left Except what we remember,
Our memories of one another and
The good times we had.

— m.e.

I picked the small yellow dandelion from the large green meadow,

The soft cool spring breeze caressed my face

And blew every strand of my hair in a thousand directions.
The golden rays of sunlight hit the tops of the trees in such a beautiful way,

The country, a home in itself ...

Cake from '95

*A Cake from '95 named Anniversary
Came to visit my mind one day.
With all his strength and power he came
And now it seems — I'm not the same.*

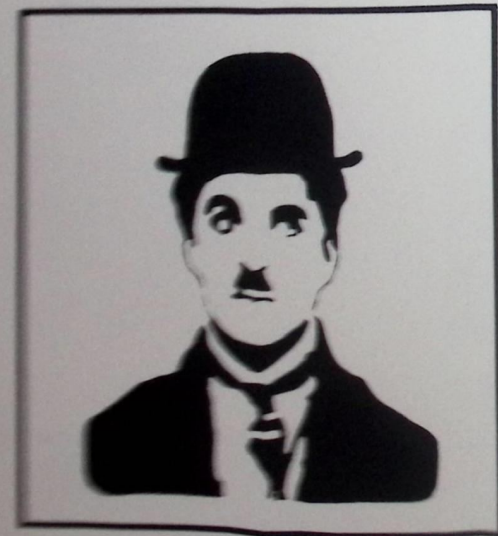

*He stays in me, he lives within.
And now I find I can't condemn,
He's taken me over with his art.
Kind and loving in his heart.*

*I know I'll love him ever more.
It's hard for me to cross that door.
I'll love him even as you see,
Because he's now a part of me.*

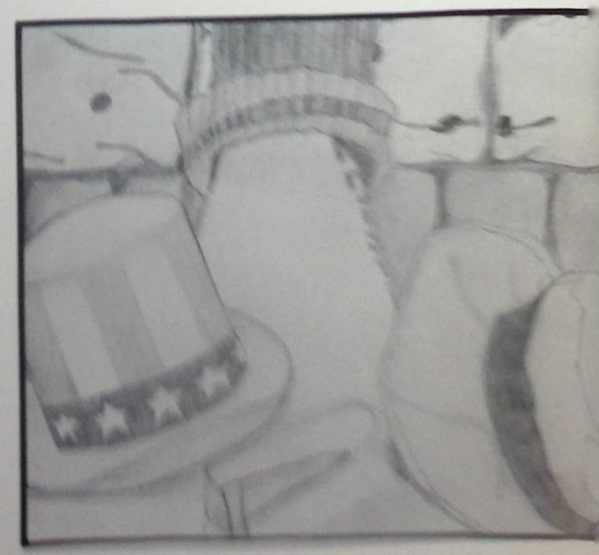

— Kerri Marshall

Each day they wander into the old jail.
The poor wretched inmates of Tucker High.
Locked up for four years without any bail.
A mixture of people — some bold, some shy.
Why are they here and what could they have done.
They all are quite guilty of one main crime.
Their awful crime is they all are very young.
Unfortunate, but only changing with time.
When their sentence is over and they are free.
They are sad and they remember the old school.
The one they detested and cringed to see —
Where they gained knowledge, a useful tool.
They remember the school where they pushed and shoved.
The school that they hated, the school that they loved.

One Candle

Yes, you are right. There is one candle on my birthday cake. It may look like one plain candle to just anyone, but that candle means more to me than just being a candle. Most candles stand for one day, one week, one year — not this one. This candle stands for the years ahead. For all the hopes and dreams that I know I will be having; for all the goals that I will fulfill. It stands for all the happiness that I hope God will bring my way; For all the people that I hope to make happy and proud of me; for all the answers I will have to come up with AND at the same time, that one candle stands for all the rocky roads that I will have to go down alone — but that is part of life. All the ups and downs in front of me. And the fun of it all is that on this very day one year from now, the one candle will stand for something totally different. That is what that one candle stands for — one candle — one year — one me. Happy Birthday — me.

Upon this Rock

Upon this rock I stand Waiting to be built into Something.
Trying to lay my foundation
But seemingly with no success.
Upon this rock I stand
Happy, joyful, bright on the outside Sad, despaired, dark on the inside.
Waiting, upon this rock
To find that which has Meaning.
To find the key to Understanding.
To find myself —
That which is of God
Upon this rock I stand
Sliding down
But hanging on Waiting to be built into Something.
Something of this rock of God.

— Jamie Brownlee

The Unspoken

What do these words mean?
Taking the emptiness out of a blank page — that's all words are for.
Live the words!
When you say love,
Love!
The deepest feelings are not expressed with words.
They are exchanged in the moments of silence.

— Jamie Brownlee

say today,
Will they still

Or will it all

PEP RALLIES

Every week Tucker students gathered to "get fired up" for the weekend game. Each grade and organization tried to display the most spirit in order to win the dubious honor of being awarded the "Spirit Stick". While all this excitement was occurring, the football players sat on the stage and soaked up as much enthusiasm as possible. Gimme a T, gimme a U . . . Two bits, four bits, six bits a dollar . . . What's the eighth grade battle cry? . . . Watch out, we're here . . . Got the fever, we're hot . . . tooty fruity punch'n judy, we're gonna kick you in the booty . . . Y-E-L-L everybody yell . . .

| Tucker | 27 | Briarcliff | 28 |

The Annual Staff interviewed various Tucker students to find out how much the Tiger fans really knew about the football games they attended each week. Here are some of the answers the student's gave.

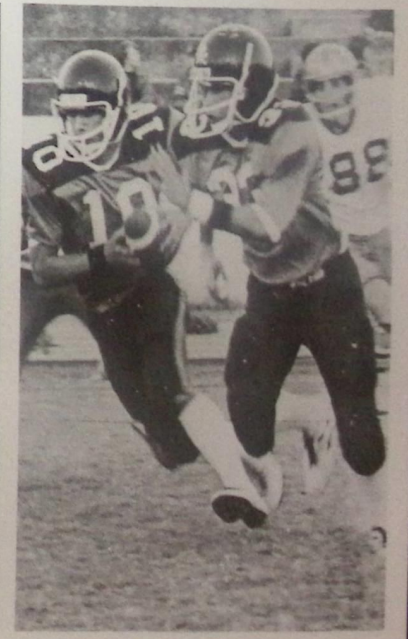

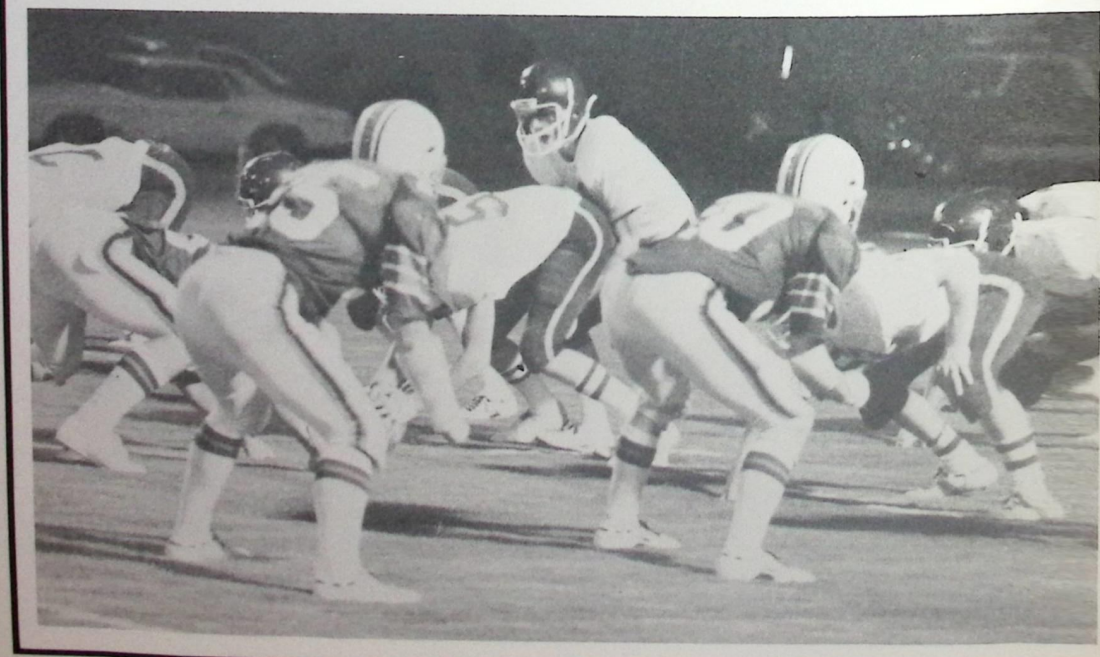

Intentional Grounding:
 When someone intentionally pushes someone over.
 Is it a baseball play?
 Does it have something to do with rolling yards?
 What your parents do when you do something wrong.

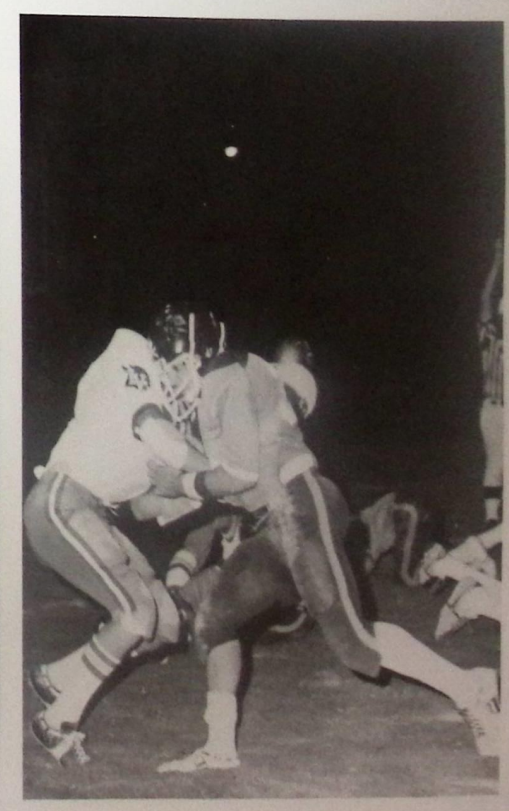

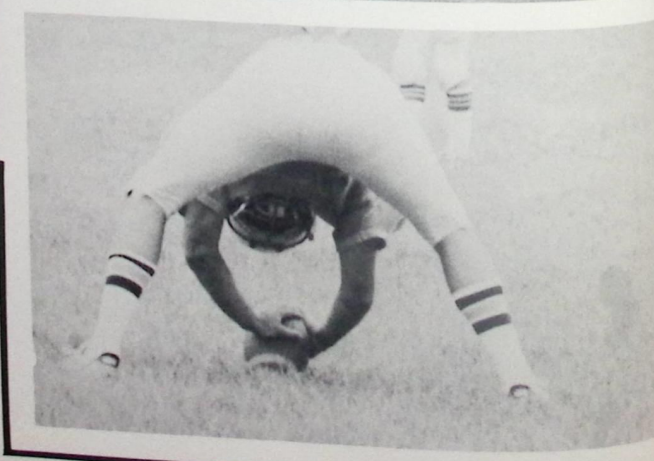

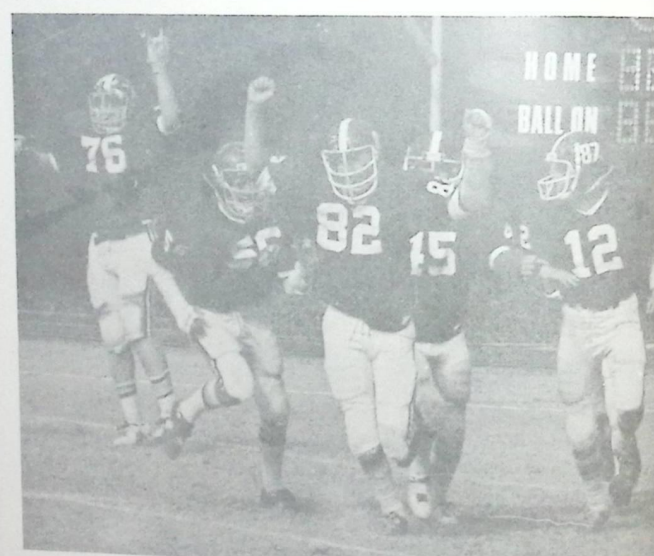

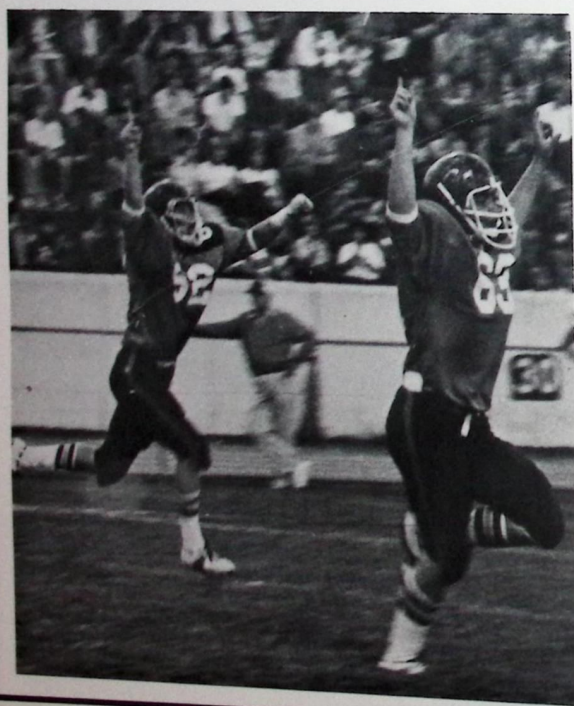

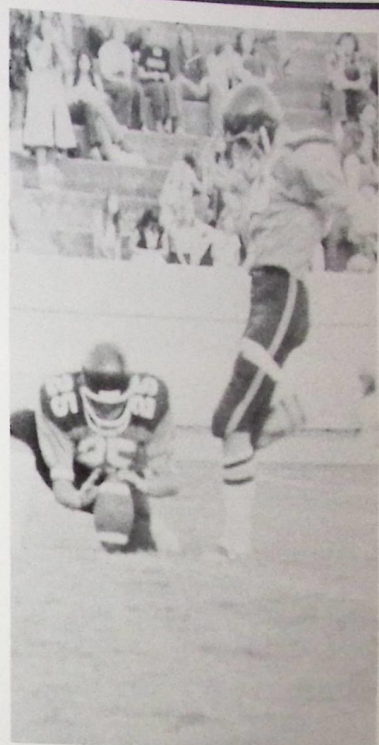

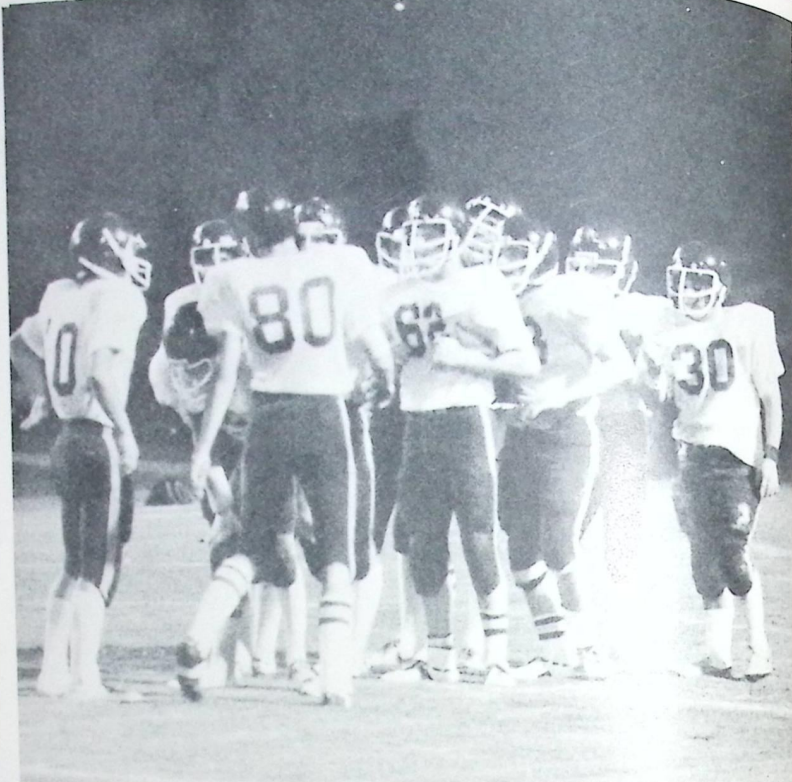

Split-End:
 Doesn't it have something to do with your hair?
 A rip in the seat of your pants.
 A guy on the end of the split.

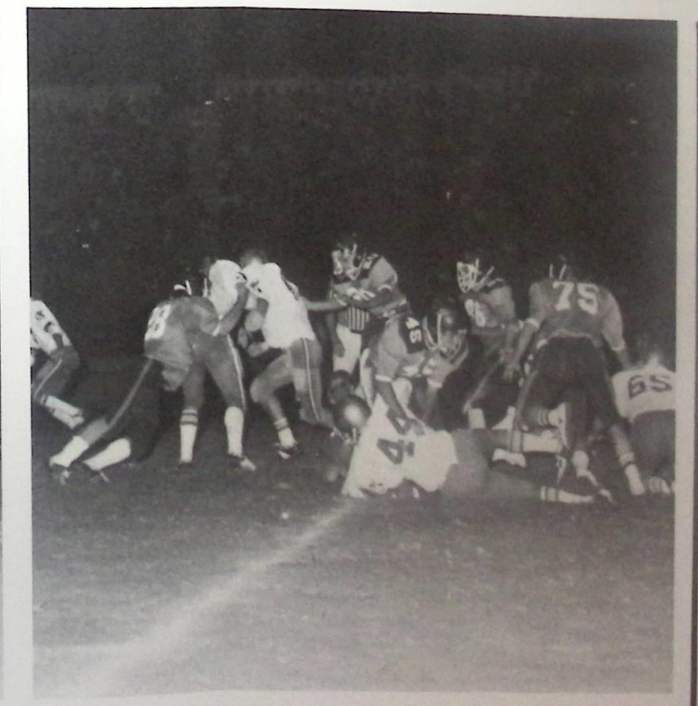

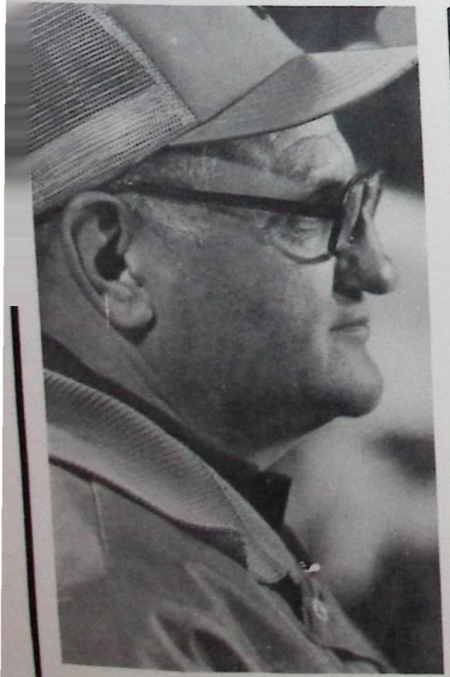

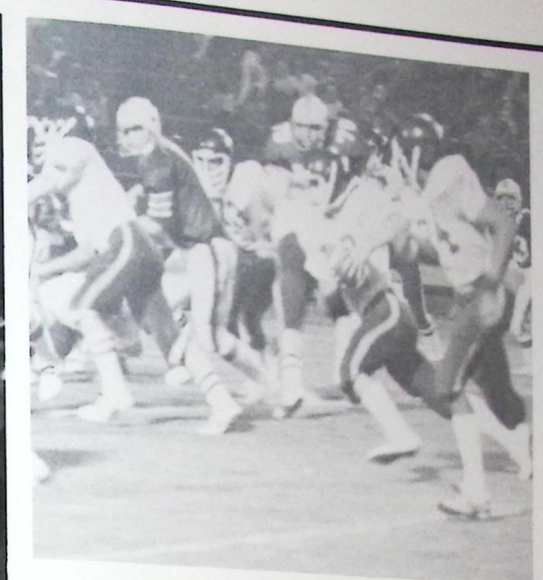

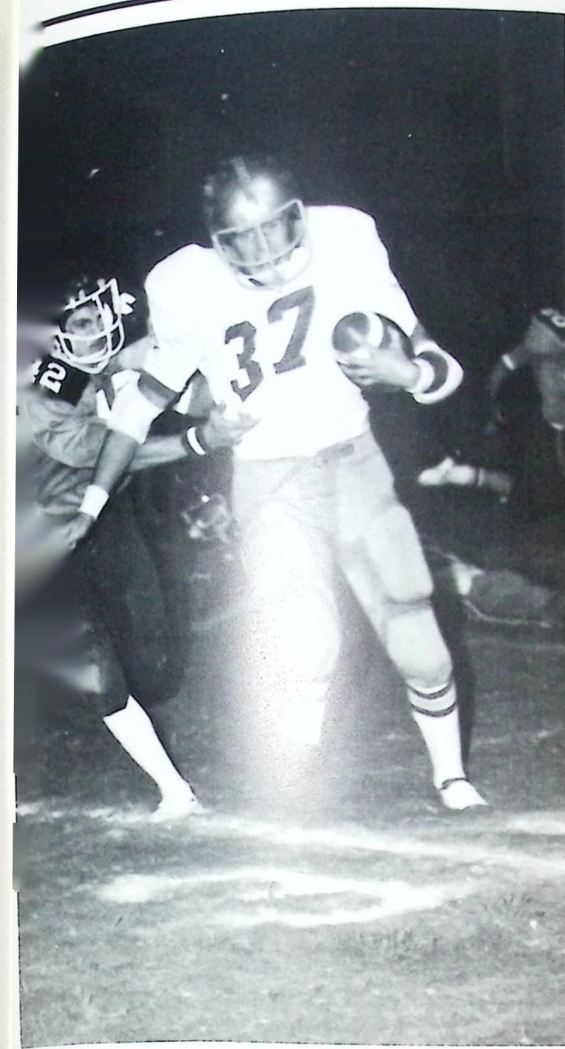

Safety Blitz:
 A drill for doing things to keep safe.
 When a safety tackles a quarterback.
 When they act like they're gonna make two points then they kick it.
 Safety things that go around the mouth.

Clipping:
 To cut.
 Hit in the back.
 When you go off sides.

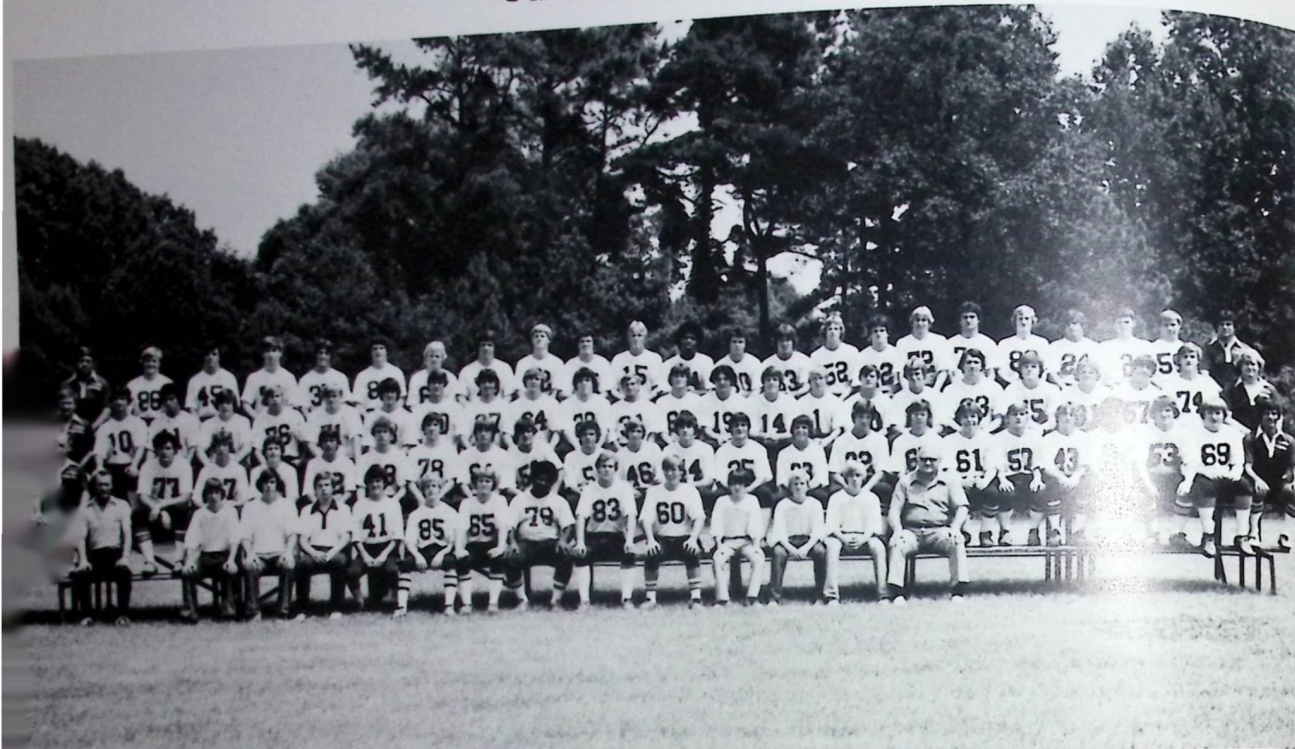

Unnecessary Roughness:
 Beating someone's brains out when they only need a slap.

Although the Tigers lost a wet contest against Dunwoody in the homecoming game, Tucker students didn't let anything rain on their parade. Many students participated in the game, parade, float competition, or half-time show. In the float competition, 8th graders won first place, sophomores placed second and freshman placed third.

The Varsity Boys' Basketball team ended its season with an 8-2 sub-region record. Outstanding performances came from Dicky Bar and Brett Schwartz who were honored as members of the DeKalb County Team of the month. The DeKalb Tip-Off Club awarded the Tucker team and fans the Sportsmanship Trophy for 1976-77. The team had a very successful season and will have three out of five starters returning next year. Keep up the good work, boys!

GIRLS GO TO STATE!

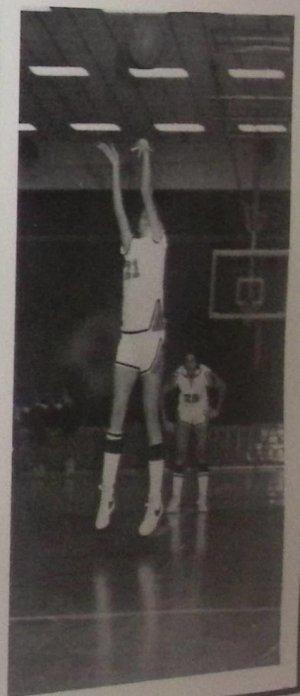

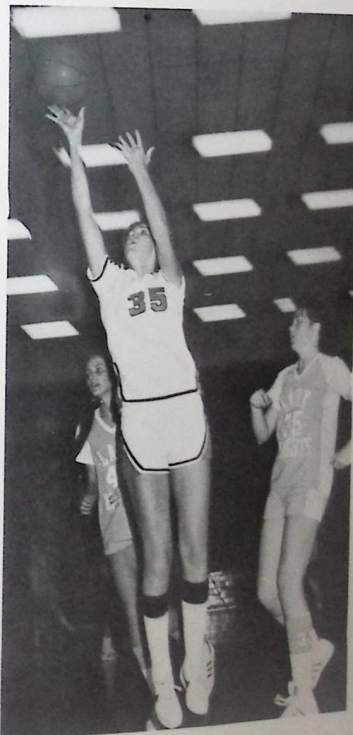

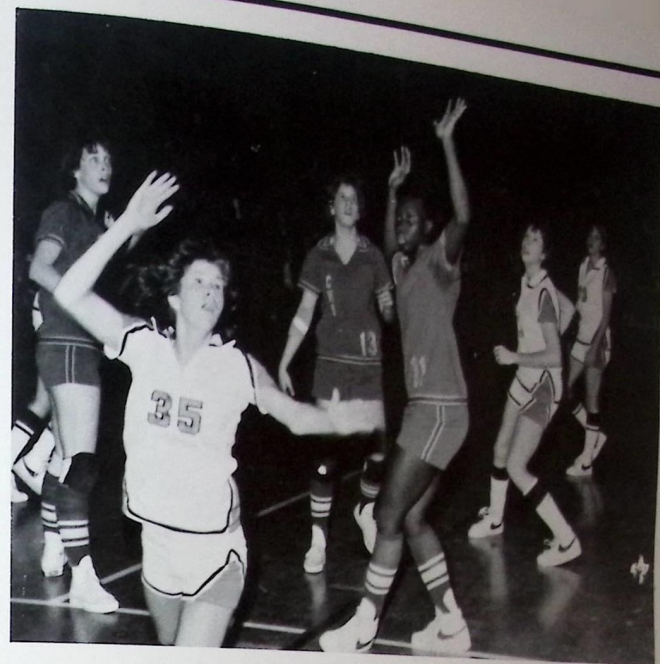

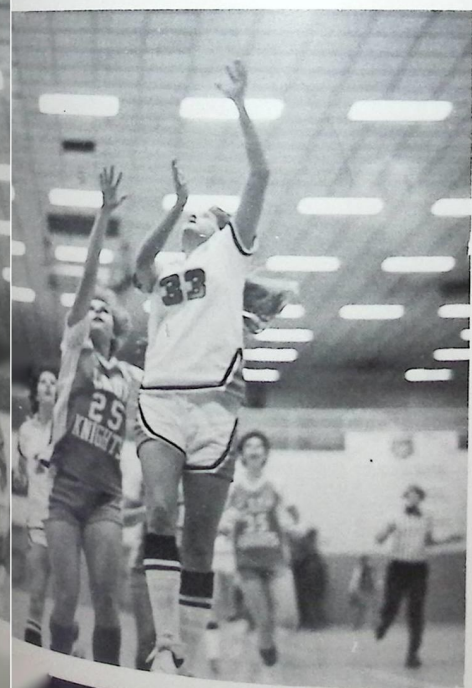

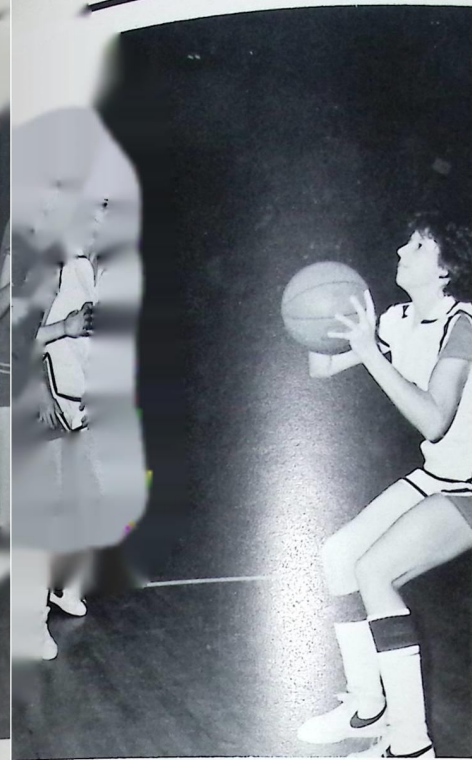

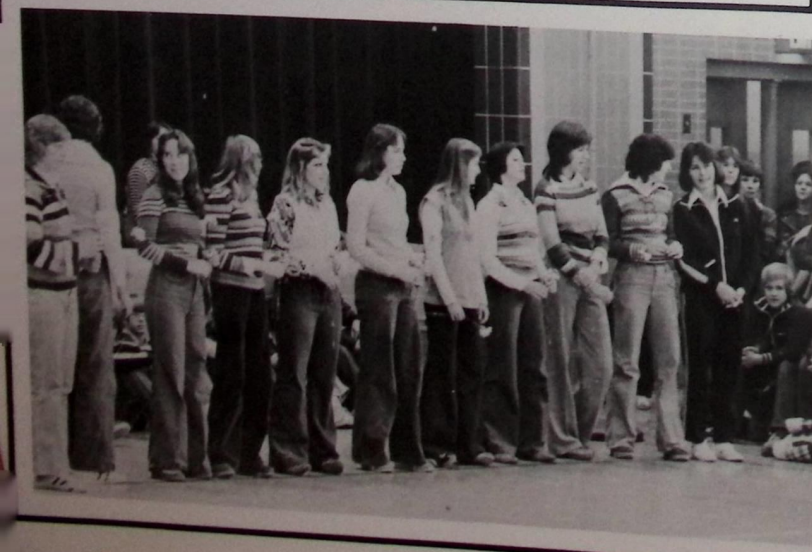

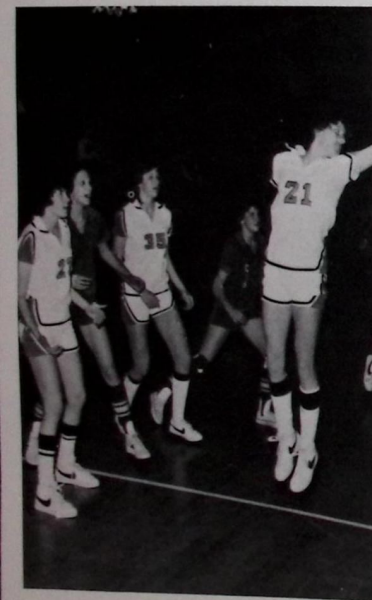

The Lady Tigers were rewarded for their season's efforts with the '77 Sub-Region title and 2nd place in the region. These titles gave the Tigers the right to play Baldwin County in first-round action of the State Tournament. After a narrow win over Baldwin County, they played and beat Wayne County in the quarter-finals. In semi-final play, the Tigers lost by 9 points to Lowndes County, the team which went on to win the State title. Congratulations to the Varsity Girls for such a great season!

The Wrestlingettes are a busy group of girls. Besides bringing cut-up oranges for the wrestlers (oranges are the only food the wrestlers are allowed to eat before a match), their activities vary from decorating lock-matches. Personal scores of each wrestler are kept in the books and team scores are written on a chalkboard for spectators. The captains of the wrestlingettes this year were Greta Smith and Vickie Buice. The wrestlingettes sponsored the starting line-up at the last match in February.

1976 TENNIS

Both tennis teams did well last year. The Boys' team did better than ever before. Their record was 7 wins and 2 losses for the 1976 year while the girls' record was 6 wins and 3 losses. In the 8-AAA region the girls finished fifth and the boys finished third behind Lakeside and Dunwoody. Steve Parsons, Stu Johnston, and Brian Neal, Diane Stone and Linda Chocallo were outstanding players.

Paul Vest
Coach McChesney

Last year's Varsity Baseball Team was very successful with a 11-6 record and a victory in the South Gwinnett Invitational Tournament. Awards went to Rusty Scott and Dennis Hart for being the outstanding pitchers and Billy Starrs, who was named the leading hitter.

The '76 B-Team had a record of 11-5. Joe Casbarro was the season's MVP; Kurt Williamson was the leading hitter, and Brent Weber was presented with the Coaches Award.

"Will the owner of a green Plymouth, license plate number BYQ-358, please move your car?" "How much room do I have on that side?" "Plenty," CRASH!!!! "Oh, No." "Look out for that car." "He'll stop in time." BANG!!!! "I guess not." "There will be no parking in the Methodist Church parking lot tomorrow and Thursday." "I do wish that bus would move so we could leave." "Watch out for that trailer!" "Hey, he took my parking place!!!" "Stop that $¢#& honking!!!" Parking lots are for parking!!!!!!

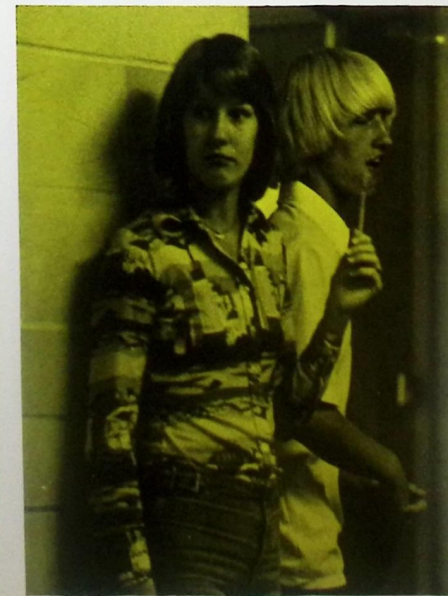

You take the high hall and I'll take the low hall and I'll be in B-Wing before you ...

HALL LIFE

Who had the pepperoni and anchovies? ... Hey man that's my elbow's in ... OWWW! When did they turn on the heaters? Are you going to Ken's? ... Yeah ... Save me a few seats, okay? Sure, how many do you want? ... Twenty-five ... I gotta make sure I get one ... When you said you were going to park the car I thought you meant at the SCHOOL ... That's my radiator you're sitting on, Kid ... One Big Mac, one cheeseburger, large fries, an apple pie, and a shake and please hurry. I have to be back at school in five minutes ... still don't see what's so great about Henderson Park ... We deserve a break today, gotta get up and get away to McDonald's ... OWWW! That's always what I wanted in my lap — a king-size mushroom pizza and a pitcher of coke.

TIGER

STAFF

MISS TIGER PAGEANT

On January 13, 1977, twenty girls from the senior class competed in the annual Miss Tiger Pageant. While Master of Ceremonies Benny Rice announced their school activities and hobbies, each girl modeled a casual outfit. The girls then modeled a formal dress and each was asked one of the following questions:

What would you do if

- (1) you and your boyfriend arrived at a party dressed in jeans and found all the other guests dressed formally?
- (2) your boyfriend had spent a lot of time and money on your birthday gift, but when he gave it to you it was the ugliest, tackiest necklace you had ever laid your eyes on?
- (3) you and your boyfriend decided to double with another couple to the Jr.-Sr., and when you saw the other girl she was wearing exactly the same dress you had on?
- (4) you went into a restaurant and ordered an expensive dinner but when it came time to pay you found that you had no money?
- (5) you wore a new perfume on a date and it turned out your boyfriend was allergic to it?

The girls were judged on the basis of their answers to the questions as well as poise, appearance, and charm.

Foreign Languages

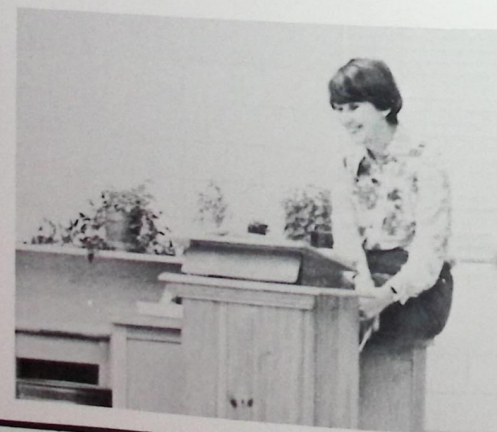

We take pride in dedicating the 1977 TIGER to a very special member of the Tucker faculty.

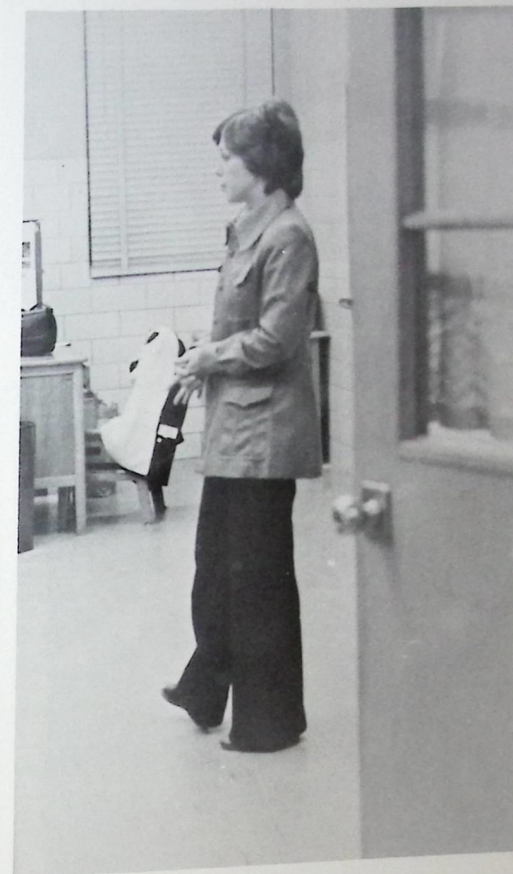

Mr. Charles LaDuca

Mr. LaDuca teaches Latin and Georgia history and is chairman of the Foreign Languages Department. He is respected by his students as a great teacher who is always there when they need him. Famous on campus for such sayings as, "Hang in there, kiddies," "Forrest, quit goldbricking!" and "Work your socks off," Mr. LaDuca coaxes the best from his students. Slowly one learns that a gruff exterior hides a heart of pure gold. Since 1961 Mr. LaDuca has shared this gold with the students and staff of Tucker High School. We are happy to honor him.

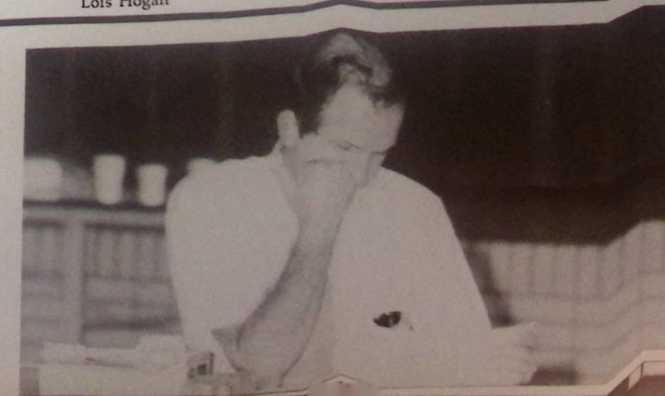

Hang In There, Mr. LaDuca!

1976 Olympics come and go ... Dorothy Hamill smiles her way to gold ... Nadia Comaneci shows the world that practice makes perfect ... Bruce Jenner wins Decathlon and rates number one in track ... African nations walk out on Summer Olympics ... Colorado's Teton Dam breaks and leaves thousands homeless ... Karen Quinlan given the right to die ... Supreme Court gives support to death penalty ... Gary Gilmore's, "Let's do it" leads to death ... Bicentennial ends with a bang and a splash in New York's harbor ... Watergate still lingers, New York disbars Richard Nixon ... China gets rocked by severe earthquakes ... Chowchilla, California school children get kidnapped, buried in their bus and dig themselves to freedom ... Martian myths shot down after Viking I lands on Mars ... Mao dies at age 82 ... Legionaire's disease takes 28 lives in Philly ... Elizabeth Ray tells her secret and costs Representative Wayne Hays his job ... Barbara Walters gets a million for newscasting ... Episcopal Church ordains women priests ... Tucker High gets its first woman principal ... Winter hits Eastern America hard ... Shortage of natural gas causes home thermostats to drop and closes schools and businesses ... Buffalo, New York gets buried ... Atlanta gets snow, the Bahamas get snow, everybody gets snow ... Americans roll up their sleeves for Swine Flu shots ... Twenty-two year old comedian Freddie Prinze takes his own life ... Alex Haley's "Roots" goes to television and thrills America ... Dooley's Junkyard Dogs go to the Sugar Bowl ... Oakland wins Super Bowl XI ... Ted Turner tries his hand with the Braves and gets belted by Bowie.

It all began on December 12, 1974 when Jimmy Carter from Georgia announced that he was running for the Presidency.

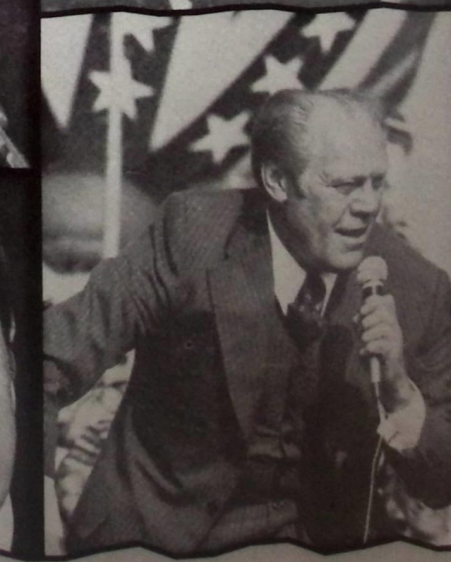

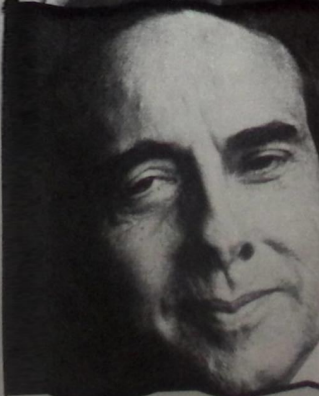

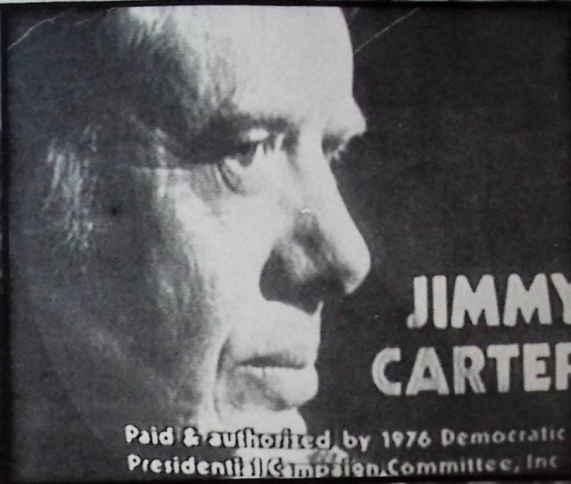

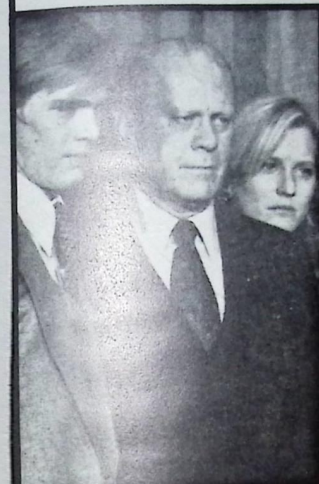

Jimmy WHO from WHERE is running for WHAT?

Out of the hills of Habersham,
Up from the flats of Plains,
Through the snows of New Hampshire,
Across the vast domain — Jimmy, Rosalynn, Chip, Amy, Miss Lillian and all the rest smiled and shook hands, smiled and shook hands. Asking Americans to trust him, Carter pledged an honest and open administration. The celebrities of the Democratic Party fell victim to Carter's appeal in primary after primary. By June the nomination was wrapped up and at the July Convention Carter chose Senator Walter Mondale of Minnesota as his running mate.

Meanwhile, President Gerald Ford was in the midst of a struggle for the Republican nomination. Conservatives backing Ronald Reagan kept the nomination in doubt until the last minute. Ford finally got the convention behind him and hit the campaign trail with Kansas Senator Robert Dole.

A series of four television debates brought the candidates and issues into millions of homes. Fighting an uphill battle from the Watergate quagmire, Ford campaigned on the improving economy, his experience in foreign affairs, and the integrity of his administration. Carter promised to reorganize the executive branch and the tax system, cut unemployment and inflation, balance the federal budget and restore faith in the United States both at home and abroad.

By 4:00 a.m. on November 4th, Carter was claiming victory before a weary crowd at the World Congress Center in Atlanta. The winning margin was small but the peanut farmer with a Dixie drawl and a Southern Baptist's faith in God had, in fact, sensed the temper of the times.

ANN W. You have great spirit! (At the L)

Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be cheerful. Strive to be happy.

Max Ehrmann
